Data Sources:

reDataVault gives you a branded, advertising-free, private web portal that enables brokers and vendors to request and configure accounts without faxes, emails, or painful paperwork. When an application comes in, simply approve it with a few clicks using secure digital signatures.

All your agreements are stored securely in the cloud and account summaries and details are visible to you at any time for ease of management. You can see which brokers are using which vendors, view accounting summaries, and track all data transactions in detail.

reDataVault's features include:

Ease of use: You'll master the intuitive interface in mere moments and save countless hours with robust organization and search tools.

Approve and manage vendors: Take control by pre-approving or disabling vendors who wish to use the MLS data.

Payments and accounting: reDataVault uses an integrated payment gateway to automatically collect data license payments for you. And you can view account summaries and statuses at any time.

Self-serve onboarding: Set up new agreements in a flash with a customized, branded website where your brokers and vendors self-manage all their data license requests. Capture digital documents and signatures, then just click to approve.

Automatic license renewals: Track when contracts are coming up for renewal—the system automatically sends reminders to your members and vendors in advance.
